Productivity
Solutions...

...with a Social Mission.

We're more than a business...
we're a second chance.

STEP Industries offers our customers productivity solutions in contract packaging and assembly. For over 25 years we have provided transitional employment to men and women who are in recovery from alcoholism and drug addiction.

Motivated team members

Our team members experience teamwork in a positive, drug-free culture surrounded by other recovering people. They could be your neighbors, co-workers or family members.

"The employees from Step were dependable and cared about what they were doing. In addition to the cost savings benefit of using Step, we received quality work and dependable help."

How can you be part of the solution?

Although a nonprofit organization, Step Industries is primarily financed through the sale of its services. Your business can maximize production resources while at the same time supporting a meaningful social enterprise by working with STEP Industries. Your support allows us to continue our mission. Our commitment to you is to make your "impossible" deadline a reality. Call today for a customized quote on your next contract packaging and assembly project.

"Step holds its employees to productivity and quality standards and appropriate work place behaviors. This accountability is key to any recovering person's long-term success in their recovery."
