Announcement

Recovery Dialogue: IT Solutions
 For one week beginning April 27th, The Recovery Accountability and Transparency Board and the Office of Management and Budget in partnership with the National Academy of Public Administration, will host a national online dialogue to engage leading information technology (IT) vendors, thinkers, and consumers in answering a key question:

What ideas, tools, and approaches can make Recovery.gov a place where all citizens can transparently monitor the expenditure and use of recovery funds?

Accountability and Transparency

This is your money. You have a right to know where it's going and how it's being spent. Learn what steps we're taking to conduct oversight of funds distributed under this law in order to prevent fraud, waste and abuse.

Share your Recovery Story

Tell us how the Recovery Act is affecting you. What's working? What isn't? We want to hear from you.

89th Annual AACC Convention April 4-7, 2009 Phoenix, Arizona
 Can't Miss Session: Gates Foundation Invests in Postsecondary Success

Center for Workforce and Economic Development

The Center for Workforce and Economic Development, organized within the AACC Office of Economic Development, brings together community colleges, offices of economic development, workforce boards, labor market entities, and other community organizations to improve the economic prosperity of business, workers, and communities. The Center provides technical assistance on collaborative practices, labor market analysis, and performance analysis in order to promote more integrated and interactive practices.

Mission: Build community college capacity to better align priorities, strategies, and resources with those of workforce and economic development partners in response to regional labor market needs.

Goals: (1) Improved economic prosperity of workers, business, and communities; (2) Increased use of best practices as common practices; (3) Enhanced community college leadership role in building and sustaining high quality programs and services supportive of regional economic growth strategies.
