TANF Funds

A Tribe may continue to use amounts awarded, without fiscal year limitation for assistance, benefits, and services allowed under the Tribal TANF regulations and/or defined in the ACF-approved TANF plan.

Effective Case Management

- Engages and empowers the client
- Involves ongoing assessment to
 - identify needs (and address them) and
 - identify strengths and assets (and utilize them).
- Ensures that the needs of the whole family are evaluated
- Facilitates engagement with caretakers to ensure positive development outcomes in child-only cases.

Time Limits for Assistance

- Eligibility for TANF assistance (as defined at 45 CFR 286.10) is time limited.
 - The regulations require that Tribes propose time limits which reflect the intent of Congress that TANF should be temporary.
 - The maximum time limit is 60 months
- Time limits and exceptions to time limits must be included in the Tribe's TANF plan.
- The Tribe must count prior months of TANF assistance funded with TANF block grant funds, except for any month that was exempt or disregarded by statute or regulation.

Are There Exceptions to the Time Limits?

Exemptions that are not optional:

- Cases which do not include an adult head of household (child only cases)
- Cases in which the adult lived in Indian Country or in an Alaskan Native Village in which at least 50% of the adults were not employed

Exemptions that are optional:

- Cases with hardship, as limited and defined by the tribe
- If the family includes someone who has been battered or subject to extreme cruelty

(Refer to 45 CFR 286.115 - 286.120)

Work Participation Requirements

- The Tribe's negotiated minimum work participation requirements must be outlined in the approved TFAP, and include
 - The work participation rate for all families (or one- and two-parent families)
 - The minimum number of hours per week that adults are required to participate in work activities.
- Rates are negotiated during the Plan renewal process.

Work Participation Rate (WPR)

Number of families receiving TANF assistance that include an adult who is meeting work requirements

Total number of families that include an adult receiving TANF assistance

45 CFR 286.85(c)

Examples of Work Activities

- Employment (unsubsidized or subsidized)
- Job search/ job readiness
- Work experience
- Career pathways activities
- Education directly related to employment
- Vocational training/apprenticeship
- Participation in training or activities that increase or provide for an individual's readiness for the job market (counseling, life skills, etc.)
- Community service
- Small business training/entrepreneurship
- Traditional subsistence activities (e.g. hunting, fishing, gathering, farming, herding, etc.)
- Traditional work activities (e.g. pottery making, weaving, wood carving, jewelry making, etc.)

What If Individual Participation Hours are Not Met?

- Recipients, with few exceptions, must work as soon as they are job ready or face possible sanction or termination of benefits
- Tribes can waive work requirements for victims of domestic violence (45 CFR 286.140(3)), for single custodial parents who are unable to obtain acceptable child care (45 CFR 286.150(a)), or for good cause as described in the approved TFAP.
- Tribes determine the penalties against individuals who refuse to engage in work activities.

What If Tribal Work Participation Rates Are Not Met?

- Tribes are subject to fiscal penalties if they fail to meet the minimum work participation rate(s) established in their approved TFAP.
- If Tribes fail to meet their negotiated WPR and a penalty is issued, they may dispute the penalty, provide reasonable cause, or establish and complete a corrective compliance plan.

Discussion with Salt River and Round Valley

Successfully Operating and Enhancing Your Program

- Evaluate program structure and processes
- Track and evaluate program outcomes
- Review eligibility criteria
- Prioritize services
- Establish and maintain partnerships
- Seek additional funding sources

Evaluate Program Structure and Processes

- Evaluate roles and assess the need to professionalize or add roles/positions
- Periodically assess staff skills and abilities; provide training to address needs
- Assess control mechanisms and organizational systems
- Evaluate capacity

Track and Evaluate Program Outcomes

- Track program data and performance measures
- Apply a Logic Model to evaluate how your program components are contributing to program outcomes
- Identify which services have the most effective outcomes
- Evaluate service gaps and needs

This is an ongoing process!

Review Eligibility Criteria

- Through the Tribal TANF Plan, the Tribe determines
 - Population and geographic area to be served
 - Definitions of “needy family” and “Indian family”
- Possible considerations:
 - Is it time to review your program’s eligibility criteria?
 - How best can you allocate your limited resources?

Prioritize Services

- If the Tribe will not provide the same services, assistance, and activities in all parts of the service area, the TFAP must indicate any variations (45 CFR 286.75(a)(3)).
- If the Tribe opts to provide different services to specific populations, including teen parents and individuals who are transitioning off TANF assistance, the TFAP must identify these services and the circumstances under which they will be provided (45 CFR 286.75(a)(4)).

Establish and Maintain Partnerships

Retrocession

What happens if a Tribe is unable or unwilling to continue administering a TANF program?

- If a Tribe no longer wishes to continue operating a Tribal TANF program, it may retrocede the program. This means that the tribe stops providing TANF services to the approved service population in the approved service area, and the attributable funding is returned to the state (Refer to 45 CFR 286.30).
