Welfare Peer Technical Assistance Network

Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) Strategies for West Virginia

Charleston, West Virginia • January 20–21, 2005

Agenda

Day One: January 20, 2005

8:30 a.m 9:30 a.m.	Registration
9:00 a.m9:30 a.m.	Welcome and Introductions
	Charles R. Young, II, Assistant Commissioner, West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources
	Kenneth Martin, Ph.D., West Virginia University Extension Service
	Larry Beckett, President, West Virginia Welfare Reform Coalition
	John Horejsi, Federal Project Officer, Welfare Peer TA Network, Office of Family Assistance, Administration for Children and Families
	This is West Virginia's first statewide workshop on the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC). This workshop will help build the capacity for communities to organize loca initiatives and develop collaborative partnerships with public officials, civic and social service providers, employers, etc., to promote greater awareness of the Federal EITC and Child Tax Credits (CTC). These local efforts will enable low-income families to become financially independent and self-sufficient. These efforts will also significantly enhance the economy of local communities and promote the development of a stronger work force.
9:30 a.m 10:15 a.m.	A Shared Vision for Community Economic Empowerment
	David J. Lett, Regional Administrator, Administration for Children and Families, Philadelphia (Region III) Building Foundations for Family Financial Self-sufficiency. Why TANF is the Right Place to Target an EITC Initiative David Cunningham, Consultant, EITC and Self-Sufficiency Initiatives, Office of Family Assistance, Administration for Children and Families Participation of former Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) clients in the EITC and CTC programs are important elements for building financial self-sufficiency. However, research reveals that current and former TANF clients are less likely to participate in these programs. The studies also report that minorities are less likely to receive these program benefits. This presentation will highlight several successful HHS pilot projects and targeted outreach strategies that have enhanced the participation of TANF clients and minority communities in the tax credit programs. These innovative outreach strategies will enable communities to bring millions of dollars in unclaimed earned benefits into the local economy. A question and answer session will follow the presentation.
10:15 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.	Break

10:30 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.	Workshop: Developing Community Partnerships Facilitator: Allison Nichols, D.Ed, West Virginia University Extension Service
	Cost-To-Impact: Tools for Tracking and Analyzing the Impact of EITC Initiatives
	Susan Cocciarelli, Michigan State University Extension Quality data collection is critical to ascertaining the true impact of community based EITC initiatives. This session will share highlights from the first year of the Michigan statewide EITC initiative and provide an overview of the Cost-To-Impact (CTI) analysis tools designed for the project. The CTI analysis tools have been adopted as a model for EITC outreach by the National League of Cities. A question and answer session will follow the presentation.
11:00 a.m. – 11:45 p.m.	Tax Assistance Partnerships and Volunteer Tax Assistance Site (VITA) Programs in West Virginia
	Facilitator: John Horejsi, Federal Project Officer, Welfare Peer TA Network, Office of Family Assistance, Administration for Children and Families
	Partnerships in Outreach and Collaboration on the EITC Sandra Trigg, Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Territory Manager, Ohio and West Virginia
	The power of coalitions is a driving force in all communities. The IRS Territory Office, through the Stakeholder, Partnerships, Education, and Communication (SPEC) organization, provides critical support to communities engaged in EITC outreach initiatives. SPEC partners with communities and businesses in developing and implementing community-based partnerships to promote education, and awareness of Federal tax credits, free tax preparation services, and asset building opportunities. This session will share highlights on the program's mission, goals and operational support for local initiatives in West Virginia.
	New Resources for Rural Communities Michael McBride, Chief, Educational Institutions and Government Partnerships, IRS
	The IRS' SPEC FY 05 Rural Outreach, Tax Return Preparation, and Financial Literacy Strategy outlines a plan of action that involves SPEC Offices and various partners utilizing rural pilots and models to deliver services to selected areas of low-income rural America. Information gathered from the FY 05 pilots is to be used to develop a national Rural Strategy for FY 06. Key to this strategy is the fact that it will utilize identification of, collaborate, and build alliances with groups that have extensive pre-existing rural infrastructures as a means of reaching even the most rural population. Equally important is the fact that partner organizations have extensive knowledge of other rural organizations. West Virginia is considered to be strategic partner in the IRS FY 05 Rural Strategy. A question and answer session will follow formal remarks from the two panelists.
11:45 p.m. – 12:15 p.m.	Overview of West Virginia EITC Activities: Best Practices and Strategies Facilitator: David Cunningham, Consultant, EITC and Self-Sufficiency Initiatives, Office of Family Assistance, Administration for Children and Families
	Elizabeth Damewood Lovas, West Virginia Welfare Reform Coalition Devin McGrew, West Virginia Welfare Reform Coalition

12:15 p.m. –1:30p.m.	New Opportunities for Developing Collaborative Partnerships on the EITC and CTC
(Working session)	Facilitator: Honorable Barbara Fleischauer, Former Delegate, Morgantown West Virginia
	Working in Partnership with the Business Community Lynn Mitchell, Policy Director, Corporate Voices for Working Families Businesses have a vested interest in supporting community EITC outreach initiatives and helping their employees learn about tax credits they are eligible to receive. Corporate Voices for Working Families has successfully developed EITC outreach partnerships with major business leaders to promote family stability and self-sufficiency. This session will highlight successful strategies for partnering with employers on EITC outreach initiatives. Corporate Voices for Working Families will also make the EITC Toolkit available for the business community. A question and answer session will follow the presentation.
1:30 p.m. – 1:40 p.m.	Break
1:40 p.m. – 2:20 p.m.	Strategies for Building EITC Community Coalitions Facilitator: Devin McGrew, West Virginia Welfare Reform Coalition
	David Cunningham, Consultant, EITC and Self-Sufficiency Initiatives, Office of Family Assistance, Administration for Children and Families
	Sharing innovative strategies for building local coalitions to promote EITC participation. Program models will reflect strategies from successful community outreach campaigns with detailed focus on the Jacksonville FL., Real Sense Prosperity Campaign, funded by United Way of North Florida. The Jacksonville project developed a broad-based, community-wide partnership between city officials, IRS, community organizations, and area business leaders. The coalition also secured the participation of faith-based leaders and the Hispanic community. The project included both an urban center and two rural communities. In the first year of operation, in 2004, The Real Sense Prosperity Campaign returned positive earnings (a ratio of 17:1) for net investment made on EITC outreach. A question and answer session will follow the presentation.
2:20 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.	Workshop: Developing a Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Site Facilitator: Robin Taylor, IRS Senior Tax Specialist, Atlanta, Georgia
	Mike Beulike, IRS Senior Tax Specialist, West Virginia
	There are varied strategies to promote the availability of the EITC and CTC. Developing a VITA program is a resource available in some communities. Tools, resources and training modules facilitate the development and maintenance of a VITA program site. This session will review the IRS training resources to operate a VITA program, including online support resources. A question and answer session will follow the presentation.
3:00 p.m. – 3:10 p.m.	Break
3:10 p.m. – 3:40 p.m.	Empowerment Through Financial Literacy Facilitator: Marlo Scruggs, Community Relations Manager, Branch Banking & Trust, Committee Member, West Virginia Welfare Reform Coalition
	Developing Financial Literacy: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) Money Smart Program
	John Meeks, Community Affairs Specialist, FDIC
	An introductory overview of the FDIC Money Smart Program, this session will focus on strategies for helping families to develop an understanding and vision for the future, empowering individuals and families to take financial control of their lives through financial literacy.

3:40 p.m. – 4:10 p.m.	Resources for Developing Community Initiatives Facilitator: Michael McBride, IRS SPEC, Manager Rural Strategy
	Developing Local EITC Initiatives: Opportunities and Challenges for West Virginia
	Maggie McCarthy, Executive Director, The Bernard and Audre Rapoport Foundation, Waco, Texas
	The Rapoport Foundation is a principal sponsor of the Heart of Texas Financial Literacy Coalition (HOTFLC). Ms. McCarthy, in collaboration with local faith-based organizations established the HOTFLC. This presentation will feature highlights of the HOTFLC media outreach strategy and will also include a review of training resources and toolkits available to assist communities organizing local outreach initiatives. A question and answer session will follow the presentation.
4:10 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.	Organizing Regional Community Partnerships: Urban/Rural Breakout Session Facilitator: David Cunningham, Consultant, EITC and Self-Sufficiency Initiatives, Office of Family Assistance, Administration for Children and Families
	Session Resource Team
	Michael McBride, IRS SPEC, Manager Rural Strategy
	Robin Taylor, IRS Senior Tax Specialist, Atlanta, GA Diana Behm, Special Projects Manager, Northeast Oklahoma Community Action
